Litany: Let Us Go

Darnysha Nard (MDiv '17)

One: Let us embark on a new path
On this new day
Let us venture to new heights
And walk in new ways.

All: Let us be amazed
In the gaze
Of the one who deserves our praise

One: Let us break loose of our chains
And free our minds
Let us recant our selfish thoughts
And redeem our time

All: Lets us be refined
In the prime
Of the one who is diversely divine

One: Let us gather and intertwine
Communing with grace
Let us confess and give name
To all things we hold with and without shame

All: Let us love and embrace
In the face
Of the one who transcends every place

One: Let us journey on to meaningful space
Rediscovering holy ground
Let us travel beyond ourselves
Exploring the mounds of redemption all around

All: Let us share what we have found
In the justice
Of the one who is miraculously profound

Let us imaginatively run
Let us always know there is work to be done
Let us remember that together we are one
Let us go
Let us become

Lent

As our community enters the season of Lent, you may notice some changes in Davis Chapel: the colorful banners have been replaced with purple fabric, the stained glass windows are closed, and the table is adorned with a single candle in a bowl of sand. As we observe this season of waiting and preparation, looking towards the resurrection, the physical symbols of our worship space have been changed to reflect our state of spiritual longing, repentance, renewal, and transformation. We invite you to consider these symbols as you journey through this season as our community worships together.
